2. Aims and intended learning outcomes

2.1 Programme aims

The programme aims to build on the students' previous academic and practical experience of Theology by deepening their understanding of specific areas of theological study and by bridging the gap between the demands of undergraduate study and postgraduate research.

2.2 Intended learning outcomes

On completion of the Postgraduate Certificate, candidates will begin to be able to

- engage critically and maturely with primary and secondary sources of theology;
- demonstrate familiarity with some major issues in theology and to evaluate them critically and constructively;
- give evidence of independent judgment in analysing evidence, producing critical reviews and constructing sustainable hypotheses;
- reflect theologically at postgraduate level;
- exercise their personal capacities to contribute to the flourishing of Church and society.

At the end of Part One of this programme (the Postgraduate Diploma) it is expected that candidates will be able to

- engage critically and maturely with the main primary and secondary sources of theology;
- demonstrate familiarity with the major issues in their chosen pathway and to evaluate them critically and constructively;
- give evidence of independent judgment in analysing evidence, producing critical reviews and constructing sustainable hypotheses;
- reflect theologically at postgraduate level;
- exercise their personal and professional capacities to contribute to the flourishing of Church and society.

In addition, on completion of Part Two (the dissertation) students will be able to apply the basic principles and methods of research (as shown in the production of a coherent, cogently argued dissertation).

3. Teaching, learning and assessment methods

3.1 Teaching and learning

This programme is designed for graduates in Theology; a high degree of independence is therefore expected of students in pursuing their studies.

The pathways for Advanced Christian Studies and for Biblical and Theological Studies are taught pathways, on which students are supported by lectures, seminars and tutorials as appropriate to specific programme units. Students are encouraged to consider the application of their studies to their practice and to reflect together on the theological issues raised. During their period of taught study they are also expected to attend the weekly Research Seminar at which papers are presented by College staff, research students and visiting speakers. Teaching for some units may be provided in a blended mode entailing both face-to-face tutorials and online study.

Articles deemed to be essential reading during the course are made available via Moodle. Bibliographies are provided and further bibliographical support is available on demand. The unit tutors give ample feedback after the production of written work. Study skills support is provided via Moodle and face-to-face.

3.2 Assessment methods

As is customary in a master's programme in theology, most assessment takes the form of essays. Some units are partly assessed by means of learning journals, written sermons, recordings of sermons, personal reflections and other appropriate methods. Units which involve studying a biblical language include a written examination. Details of the assessments can found in the unit descriptors.

3.3 Feedback on assessment

For all formative assessments and assessed coursework, feedback will normally be provided within 15 working days after the submission deadline. For dissertations, feedback will normally be given within 30 working days after submission. Students may request to see their exam scripts without charge, although they are not permitted to take the scripts away with them.

3.4 Entry requirements

Entry to the programme is in accordance with the College's Protocol for the Admission of Candidates for Master's Degrees¹, which includes these two specifications:

- Applicants to the Master of Theology (MTh) programme must be graduates in Theology or Religious Studies with normally an upper second class honours degree from an approved institution. Candidates without such a qualification but with equivalent prior studies may be considered for admission.
- Accreditation of Prior Learning (APL) or Prior Experiential Learning may be considered up to a maximum of 60 credits of the MTh programme, 45 credits of a Postgraduate Diploma in Theology and 15 credits of a Postgraduate Certificate in Theology.

On successful completion of the Postgraduate Certificate, students can register for the Postgraduate Diploma. On successful completion of the Postgraduate Diploma, students can register for Part Two of the programme (the dissertation).

3.5 Student support

1. Every year updated handbooks are made available via Moodle.
2. The unit descriptors are likewise available via Moodle before the start of the academic year.
3. The Academic Director, the Principal as well as all other tutors are available to see students, if necessary without appointment.
4. A chaplain is available to all students. Any contacts between the chaplain and a student are confidential.
5. Students on the taught pathways Advanced Christian Studies and Biblical and Theological Studies begin with the Orientation Week in September which contains all the elements necessary to get students off to a good start including sessions on use of the library, study skills and avoiding plagiarism in coursework.
6. A pastoral tutor is available to taught students for any further help on an individual basis.
7. The librarian provides training on issues such as accessing electronic material and is accessible to all students.
8. The College has a Learning Enhancement Department which offers help to those with particular learning needs
9. The College has a disability policy and disability officer.
10. Shared worship in the chapel on Mondays to Thursdays offers spiritual support for any students who wish to attend.

4. Programme structure

4.1 Parts One and Two

The programme consists of two parts, the first of which comprises three units of 30 credits each and two units of 15 credits each. The second part consists of a dissertation of no more than 15,000 words. Students must complete the first part of the programme before proceeding to the dissertation. Those who satisfactorily complete only the first part of the programme (120 credits) will be awarded a Postgraduate Diploma. Those who satisfactorily complete 60 credits will be awarded a Postgraduate Certificate in Theology. Those who satisfactorily complete both parts (180 credits) will be awarded the degree of Master of Theology.

4.2 Units in Part One

All students follow the two 15-credit core units 402 Theological Enquiry and Interpretation and 403 Theological Research. Ministerial students take the two Professional Ministry and Practice units, which are 15 credits each (7307a and 7307b). The other units all have 30 credits; students take further units to make up the total of 120 credits according to their chosen pathway from the following list. Not all optional units are offered in any one year. Student preferences will be taken into consideration in respect of the units offered.

o = optional unit for pathway

4.3 Progression

Students will be considered for progression against Spurgeon's College's Taught Postgraduate Degree Regulations.²

Students will not be permitted to commence work on the dissertation until their research proposal has been formally approved by the programme leader.

The dissertation may be in any area of theology as covered by the student's pathway, provided that in other ways it meets the criteria of the programme. The dissertation will be the result of the student's own research and is expected to provide evidence of a person's analytical, evaluative and creative abilities. Dissertation titles will be drafted as part of unit 403 and will be approved by the programme leader who will make sure that the contents of the dissertation will not overlap with any work previously produced by the candidate. A supervisor will be allocated to each student.

Students who have started a unit but submitted no work for over a year, or completed a unit and not started another for over a year, may be deemed to have withdrawn from the programme, unless there are extenuating circumstances. Where there are unforeseen or unavoidable circumstances which are preventing or hindering progress, students should discuss the situation with the unit tutor or the programme leader at the earliest opportunity.

Students exiting with a Postgraduate Diploma or Postgraduate Certificate may be permitted to rescind this award and 'upgrade' to a Masters or Postgraduate Diploma by successfully completing the appropriate further component of the programme providing the following conditions are met:

- The rescinding occurs within five years of the student's initial award, subject to the programme still being available.
- An overall pass, at the appropriate standard to assure admission to the MTh, was obtained for the Postgraduate Diploma or Postgraduate Certificate including any capped or compensated grades.

4.4 Programme duration

Full-time

The full-time mode of the programme lasts for two calendar years. Work for Part One of the programme, the taught units, will normally be completed by the end of May in the first year. Once a student has qualified for Part Two by passing Part One, they may complete the dissertation either over the summer or over the subsequent year.

The full-time Postgraduate Certificate programme lasts for a semester; the full-time Postgraduate Diploma programme lasts for two semesters.

Part-time

The part-time mode of the programme lasts for four calendar years. Within this maximum limit, it is important that those who are studying part-time progress at a consistent rate throughout the course. For example, if the required 120 credits of taught units are completed over the course of two years, it is normally expected that the dissertation worth 60 credits will be completed in one further year.

Students registered part-time for the Postgraduate Certificate have a year to complete their course; students registered part-time for the Postgraduate Diploma have two years to complete.

4.5 Exit awards

Students registered for the MTh who satisfactorily complete only Part One of the programme (120 credits) are awarded a Postgraduate Diploma in Theology. Those who satisfactorily complete 60 credits are awarded a Postgraduate Certificate in Theology.

4.6 Interruption of studies

A candidature may be interrupted, or a time-limit extended, on compassionate grounds or in case of illness, serious domestic difficulty or because of exceptional professional commitments which can be demonstrated to have affected the candidate adversely. A full and reasoned case, supported by appropriate, satisfactory, medical or other independent evidence must be submitted. A student should not assume that an interruption will be granted and should continue their studies under their registration until they are informed in writing of the outcome of the application for interruption.

5. Programme evaluation, monitoring and revision

The College's Annual Programme Review process is designed to maintain and enhance the quality and effectiveness of Spurgeon's taught programmes – including the postgraduate degree programmes. Monitoring of the programme aligns with the detailed description of the process outlined in the College's Annual Programme Review Policy.³ Student input into this process is considered vital, and as well as representatives serving on the Committees that are involved in this process, all students contribute in these ways:

- i. At the end of each unit, students evaluate their learning experience. These unit evaluation forms are sent to each tutor for review and comment. They are subsequently scrutinised by the Undergraduate Programme Committee and the Academic Quality Assurance Committee which in turn reports to the Academic Board. Students are represented on these bodies and any significant outcomes are shared via the Staff-Student Liaison Council.
- ii. At the end of each year, students evaluate their experiences on the programme as a whole and the support they have received. This feedback is reviewed by the Senior Management Team, who report any outcomes to the Staff-Student Liaison Council.

Programme monitoring procedures form a continual process of review by the teaching staff team, with a rolling action plan in response to data about the quality of teaching, learning and achievement and the student experience.

Revisions to the programme may be proposed and agreed at any time, in response to student or staff feedback and perceived need, through the processes outlined in the College's Curriculum Modification Policy.⁴ The programme is subject to the College's periodic review and revalidation processes as contained in its Periodic Review Procedure⁵ and Validation and Revalidation Procedure.⁶
